Attorney General's Community Service Law Awards Nomination Form

An electronic version of this form is available from www.justice.wa.gov.au/lawaward.

The Attorney General's Community Service Law Awards for an Individual and Organisation are annual awards designed to recognise the work of an individual legal practitioner and organisation who have made a pro bono contribution to benefit the Western Australian community.

The nominees will have demonstrated a commitment to using their legal skills to serve others in the community over an extended period of time.

The Awards are presented as part of WA Law Week.

Criterion for selection

- Nominees must demonstrate an outstanding commitment to providing pro bono legal work to benefit the Western Australian community.

Nominations

- Nominations may be made by legal practices, individual legal practitioners or any organisation that provides services to the community.
- All nominations should include details of two referees prepared to endorse the candidate's community services.
- Nominations must be made on the official Attorney General's Community Service Law Award Nomination Form and be accompanied by a detailed submission of up to 1,500 words, addressing the selection criterion.
- Nominees must sign the official Nomination Form indicating acknowledgment of the regulations for the award.

Selection of awards recipients

- The winners will be selected through a short-listing process conducted by a panel established by the Law Society of Western Australia, with the final selection made by the Attorney General.
- The decision will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.
- The Attorney General will present the winners with the Attorney General's Community Service Law during WA Law Week in May.

Promotion terms

In promoting the above awards, the Department of Justice publishes various photographs and stories in its own and in other agencies' publications, as well as generating content for the Departmental and Ministerial websites and related marketing materials.

By signing this nomination form, you are consenting to the Department publishing your name and/or photograph in any of its or any other organisations' publications and promotional materials (including written, electronic or multimedia materials) indefinitely.

You also acknowledge that you are not entitled to any remuneration, royalties or any other payment and/or testimonials from the Department of Justice in respect of the use of photographs or related written materials.
